Laos power generation container

Overview

In February 2021, the Lao government announced that two more lignite-fired power plants will be constructed in Sekong Province. Work began in 2021 and will be completed by 2025. Overview This page describes and production, consumption and export in . As of 2020, Laos had 10,021 MW of electricity generation capacity, 80% of which came from . 75% of the electricity generated.

The Hongsa Thermal Power Station is a 1,878MW in , . It is a "mine mouth" facility, fueled by coal from an adjacent mine. Its three power generating units came.

In 2010, Laos petitioned the (MRC) to approve their proposal for 11 new dams. This move resulted from the government's intention to become the "battery of Southeast Asia", as Laos currently.
