Is Taiwan a green power market?

In May 2020, Taiwan completed its first green power wheeling, with a total volume of over 110 million kWh, marking the first year of green power trading in Taiwan. To date, Taiwan's green energy market has experienced a persistent supply shortage, resulting in high prices and have attracted more and more renewable energy generators to the market.

Does Taiwan have a green power supply?

Such trend is reflected in the year-on-year growth in green power supply, which in 2022 increased by 33.6% over the previous year, reaching nearly 1.32 billion kWh. Figure 1. Taiwan's green electricity supply structure (2018-2022).

Why is Taipei a good place to live?

Taipei, the capital, is known for its bustling urban lifestyle and modern developments, while areas outside the city offer more spacious living options, often at lower prices. Understanding these regional differences is key to finding the right property for your needs. Important factors to consider
